Who are we?

Lifestart is an early childhood intervention program for children with intellectual disabilities or delays in development, or at risk of delay. It was established in 1996 as the vision of eight families to provide a community based program managed by families, for families. Lifestart is a parent co-operative providing a family-centred approach to the needs of children with disabilities and their families. It is based on the concept of partnerships between parents and professionals.

Lifestart works with hundreds of children and their families each week, right across Sydney to help our children reach their full potential. Their educators and therapists help children with Cerebral Palsy, Autism Spectrum Disorders and Down Syndrome to name a few.

To find out more information on Lifestart please view our website at <http://www.lifestart.org.au/>.
